

A Most Remarkable Price Reduction Sale of Ladies' Suits

It is very unusual that we place such a large assortment of Ladies' Tailored Suits at such sharp reductions. The prices we have these seasonable garments marked offer an opportunity for the thrifty inclined shoppers to purchase a good big money's worth of value.

Values up to $22.50,
Now $15.00

$25.00 Values, now $17.50

These Suits at $15.00 and $17.50 are particularly fine. Suppose you see them and satisfy yourself regarding them! You will find the style exactly right; in other words, they are the modes of the moment, suitable not only for immediate wear, but for weeks to come. Then the price—$15.00 and $17.50—think of it: Wool Serges, Poplins, Gabardines and Mixtures, fur trimmed, braid trimmed and trimmed with velvet; beautiful tailored garments. If thrift means anything, it means the seizing of just such opportunities as this.

THE NEW FURS are receiving their share of attention. Furs are advancing in price daily, but ours were fortunately bought early in the summer and are being sold at the old prices. Buy early and take the advantage of this opportunity.

We urge an early selection on your part, because values like these cannot last.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aldrich of West Burke have been guests the past week at L. W. Heath's. Mrs. Aldrich will be better remembered as Miss Fannie Hastings, who was formerly a teacher in this city.

E. W. Blanchard, who had made his home at 30 Academy street for the past year, left yesterday to join his wife and two children at their former home at Mt. Desert Island, Me. He made the trip in his Ford runabout.

William McCaffrey, who has been passing a month in Dorchester, Mass., and with friends in Philadelphia, resumed his duties in the Drown pharmacy this morning. Mr. McCaffrey has recovered the use of the index finger on his right hand, which he injured several weeks ago.

Jed O. Beckley of Essex street, who has been confined for the past two months, during a part of which period he was at the City hospital, was able to be downtown to-day for the first time since his illness. Mr. Beckley is convalescing from the effects of an operation and expects to regain his normal health within a short time.

Frank E. Daniels, who was arrested by Chief Sinclair at the Elm street corner of Washington street Sunday evening, pleaded guilty to a first offense when arraigned before Magistrate H. W. Scott in city court this forenoon. Upon Daniels' decision to sign a pledge of abstention for one year, payment of the minimum fine was suspended pending good behavior and he was assessed only the costs, amounting to $6.55.

Edward Blondin, who recently came to the Park theatre from the Grand theatre in Springfield, Mass., on the recommendation of the Powers company, began work to-day as a cinematograph operator at the local picture house. As a resident of Barre several years ago, Mr. Blondin served his apprenticeship in one of the theatres here, although he has since been employed in several large moving picture theatres in eastern cities.

Michael Good of Brook street, in his Ford touring car, hooked into Dr. Joe W. Jackson's team in front of the Howland block this morning and there was sufficient kinetic energy in the machine to wrench the rear axle on the physician's carriage. A street car approaching from the south is said to have complicated matters, although Dr. Jackson's horse was tethered close to the sidewalk curb.

Police headquarters got a telephone message from Conductor Stebbins of the Green Mountain express this morning asking that an officer be posted at the M. & W. R. station to await the arrival of the express in this city. When the train reached the station, Officer John W. Dineen was asked to take temporary charge of one Fred Temple, lately of Rye, N. H., who is said to have used offensive language on the train while en route from Wells River to Barre. Temple is alleged to have tendered the conductor a check for his fare, suggesting that the only alternative the conductor could offer was a free ride should he refuse to cash the check. Conductor Stebbins held to a different view and made no reply when Temple threatened to report him. Temple was taken to police headquarters to consider further the propriety of paying his fare.

Regular meeting of Court Barre, No. 3, 317, I. O. F., will be held at K. of C. hall, Scamini block, at 7 o'clock sharp Tuesday evening, Nov. 5. Dance after the meeting. Per order Frank Casland, R. S.

TO PROPERTY OWNERS:—

Here is a matter of interest to you.

B. V. S. VARNISH

For woodwork, floors and outside surfaces, does not scratch or mar white. Heavy pieces of furniture moved across the floor merely dent the finish, but it will not crack or show white streaks. The floor will not have to be refinished so often if done with B. V. S. Varnish. Drop in and get one of our Test Paddles, finished with B. V. S. Varnish; it is a sound argument on varnish values, which speaks volumes.
